Salutatory.

IT is with pleasure that the Board of Editors for '93 present the fourth issue of "The Hellenian." It has been a work of much labor and anxiety, but we forget all when we think of the many expressions of commendation, congratulation, etc., which shall be accorded us by the blood-thirsty searchers for our scalps. While such aforesaid expressions are to be appreciated, the Board desire to state that it is their intention not to experience them—innocence being our plea.

THE EDITORS.

"We'll never do so any more."

Has fast hurried us not knowyng
Whith'r, 'til pantyng 'pon ye verge.

Of spring finales yt leues us hye
Above ye low landes left agoe,
Where wearie toylers longe and sighe
Toward and for thatte which now we knowe.

O, classe fellows, be not dismayde!
But looke thee wele unto thine oares,
Just now ye rockes'r by salte sea sprayde
And ye tyde reebbyng 'round thee roares.

Knot wele ye sinewes of eache arme,
Aloyng ye shele lye low, lye low,
Breathe deepe, strike stroyng, be calm, no harme
Shal com to thee conq'ringe, I trow.

And when ye finale reefes are payst,
When Juniore, Seniore whilome are,
Upon lyfes open sea at laste,
Maye we by som payle silente starre.

Benevolent, be guyded 'een
To where ye infynite ys showyn,
And where far off thro' mistes are seen,

LIKE all other classes the first thing we experienced on returning to the University last September was a loss of numbers. We entered in '91 with eighty-eight members; we now have only fifty-two.

Among the new students whom we were glad to welcome as class-mates were Messrs. Aston, Boyce, Bryson, T., Graves, Heath, McAllister, W., Scott, J., Shannonhouse, F., and Thompson, H.

But what was wanting in numbers was compensated for in bonyancy of spirit. To realize that "the dreaded name of Fresh" had given way to "the name of dreaded Soph" was indeed "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

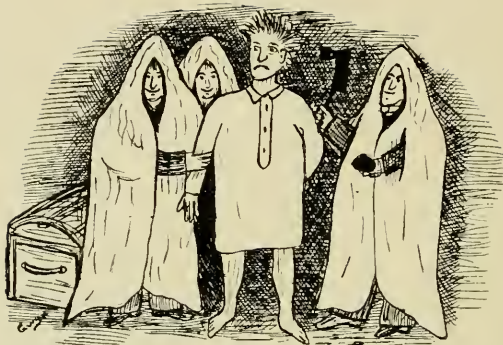

We have continued the policy inaugurated by the preceding Sophomore Class in regard to hazing new students. No timid student need now hesitate to leave his paterfamilias' coat-tail for fear of being changed to the complexion of the sons of Ham, or of trying his vocal organs before a "select committee" preliminary to getting on the Glee Club or winning the declaimer's medal. It is sincerely hoped that the example set by the preceding class will be followed by every succeeding one.

It is hardly within the sphere of the historian to record future events, lest he mistake the signs of the times and err in his judgment, but a true historian is not only a mere recorder of facts, but must look into the future. Hence, if our class prophet will kindly pardon us for this slight encroachment upon his rights, we firmly believe that, looking forward with pleasure to the season when second French and Conics are over, under the present excellent management of the University, we will return next season with as many men as we now have in our class and with high hopes and bright prospects for the future.

‡ CLASS ‡ HISTORY. ‡

We, the class of six and ninety,
Come as Freshmen now to greet you.
In our numbers we are many ;
More than e'er have been before us
Since the dark days of the sixtys ;
And we trust that we shall not be
Least in qualities of virtue.
Ye who e'er have been a Freshman
Know the troubles of this people
And to you we tell our story :
How, the first of last September,
Left we our homes and here assembled,
Left them, here to come and mingle
With the ones who were to haze us,
Were to scorn us, and maltreat us.
You shall hear how, on the first night,
In our rooms we trembling waited
For the coming of the Sophmores ;
Being weary with our travel
Soon we threw aside our clothing,
Said our prayers and fell a dreaming.
But, not long, were we to stay there
And our dreams of short duration
Soon by ruthless " Soph's " were broken.
From our downy couch they dragged us,
On our trunks, while in our night gowns,
We were placed to make orations
Or to dance, sing, or to suffer
Being smoked out with tobacco.
Then they left us till the morning,

Till that sorrow, bringing morning
When we first went to the class-room,
There to stare our ignorance showing
When they asked us any questions.
Should you ask me why so many
Tumbled on " Old Tommy's English " ?
We will answer, we will tell you
Just because we were not able
To buy all his many text books
And we spent our " frog skins " sporting
Instead of for his boring " methods,"
So the Xmas xams, caught us
Knowing little of his English.
And, upon the board, soon after,
Many of our names were missing.
Billy told us that he never
Had a class that knew so little
Of the principles of Euclid,
But we got through by our spotting
And the " grats " which we had taken
In the term, when " non paratus."
So but few of us he blinded,
But " Old Harry " though he praised us
Still he threw us without mercy.
You shall hear how in the Glee Club
Very many tried for entrance,
Nightly in the chapel practised
That they might sing well together,
And that " Harry " might accept them.
Six of us at last were taken.

And the others he consoled them,
Said next year they might be taken,
And they might then wear the dress-coats,
Take the trips and dance the germans.
We are also represented
On the Foot-Ball Team and Base-Ball,
On one four, four on the other
On the Foot-Ball Team the swiftest
And the strongest in the rush-line,
Both are found within our numbers,
And they helped to win the trophies,
Did their parts in every contest.
On the diamond we are in it,
For we have the best of players.
We've a pitcher who's so speedy
That but very few can touch him.
When they do, we have an infield
That was never known to fumble.
We are also represented
Strongly in the track athletics.
And now of the ill-famed Soph'more.

We must say this to his credit :
That this year he has restrained him
From his blacking brush and blacking,
Which it long has been his custom
To use freely on the freshman,
And for this we duly thank him.
On the whole, when we consider
Both our fortunes and misfortunes,
We decide that being Freshmen
Is not bad as represented,
And the days that we have spent here
Have been fraught with many pleasures,
As our Freshman life is waning
And we soon shall have arisen
To the dignity of Soph'mores.

* * * *

I now end this Fresh Class History,
And I leave you with the wishes
That you may live long and prosper,
And your sons, some ten or twenty,
May, each, some day be a Freshman.

MEDICAL CLASS OF '93.

N. M. GIBBS, President.
REID RUSSELL, Vice-President.

Officers.

JOHN THOMPSON, Sec'y and Treas.
R. S. TURLINGTON, Historian.

Hell.

Rah! rah! rah! we are the Meds!
We are the boys with level heads.

THREE years ago the Medical Department was opened in the University of North Carolina, under the able management of Dr. Richard H. Whitehead.

This school has outgrown its experimental stage, and has now become a firmly established department of the University. Each succeeding class has given evidence of not only a steady numerical growth, but progress in the character of work done. Especially well does this apply to the medical class of 1892-93.

Of our record in the class-room, we need only cite the testimony of our honored professor, by whom we are credited with being the most diligent ever under his instruction.

On the athletic field the class has had Gibbs, the excellent end-rush of the foot-ball team, and Moye, the crack left-fielder of the base-ball team. Nor were our boys forgotten in the Washington's Birthday elections.

The medals for the greatest "dude" and the most "conceited" man in college, both fell to the embryo doctors.

Our roll call at the opening of the Fall term showed fifteen men in the class. After Christmas, Willard, '93, joined us, taking the medical course, in addition to his regular college work.

Dame Rumor has it that our popular Professor of Histology has surrendered to the wily Cupid, and that the frogs and bugs are resting in the assurance of being chased with less vigilance in the future.

Our hats off to you, esteemed sir, in a united bow, with best wishes for a happy future.

Men from our department have always stood well in other medical colleges, attended after leaving the Hill, and we trust that the members from each succeeding class will continue to give evidence of the valuable training received in the medical school of the University of North Carolina.

“ When one talks of hereditaments, misprisons and indentures,
Of chattels, and of mortgages, of choses and debentures,
Of assumpsit, debt and covenant, of trespass and attainders,
Of attaching and conveyancing, of signing and indorsing,
Of femmes, both sole and covert, separating and divorcing,
Of words of twenty letters, which you'd think would break his jaw,
You will then know that the fellow's just begun to study law.”

IT is with pleasure that the Historian of the Law Class of '92-'93 contemplates the many achievements of honor and prowess in the arena of oratorical contests and upon the athletic fields won by members of this class, and as no general history could do justice to the subject, he has thought best to append the individual record of each man, and this record, I would venture to say, will not be surpassed by that of any class in any department of the University.

The high standing of the laws in the Di. and Phi. Societies has been ably maintained, and in the athletic field Devin and Murphy on the foot-ball eleven were recognized as two of the best men, and the base-ball team see in Devin a second Dan Brouters.

Boyden, as Washington's Birthday orator, deservedly received many high encomiums, as he delivered one of the finest orations ever heard in the Di. hall.

Previous historians have told of the establishment of the Law Department, but no history, however small and incomplete, could justify its appearance without some mention of the Hon. John Manning, our able and beloved instructor. In him we have found not only a teacher, but a kind and sympathetic friend, and there is not a man in the class who will not carry through life an indelible impression of his noble nature, and ever see in him an example of the man, the lawyer and the scholar worthy of the highest efforts to emulate.

The weekly moot court exercises have proven very entertaining as well as instructive, and the monthly public moot court under Dr. Manning, have attracted the general attention of the whole University, and won much praise for the able manner in which the cases are conducted.

The members of the class who went to Raleigh and secured their license from the Supreme Court in September last, are designated by a star (*), and those who went in February by a dagger (†).

PART I.

1. Estudiantina. Lacome.

We are the jolly gay students
Of fair Salamanca, the old, the old,
Though we poor be, we are noble, we've more ancestors
than we have gold.
From Cadiz to Barcelona,
From Murcia to Miranda,
When the pander's resounding ;
Every one exclaims : There they are !
O-le ! We are the jolly gay students
Of fair Salamanca, the old, the old,
Though we poor be, we are noble, we've more ancestors
than we have gold.
More ancestors than we have gold, Ah ! here we are.
We'll sing and dance without ceasing,
All day to-morrow we'll sleep.
Under the curtain half lighted
Let your slim finger tips peep.
Often the bird in the tree-top,
Sings, for it bunger doth feel ;
Throw us, we pray, the small coin of silver
Which you in your hand conceal.
Throw it ! Throw it !

2. College Songs. | a. Chapel Steps. Gov.

6. Cradle Song. Harrington.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup

Has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children, while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for freshmen. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

7. Johnny Schmoker. U. N. C. Version.

PART II.

1. U. N. C. Medley. K. P. H.
2. Huettelein. Beschmitt.

Solo, MR. MAXWELL.

3. 'Varsity Seem-phunny. A. Non.
4. The Letter. Hutton.

Three weary days have passed away,
And still I sing a mournful lay,
Because my love is far away,
And I have had no letter.
I study hard at ancient lore,
And when a knock comes at the door
I close my book and hope once more
That I may get a letter.
Rat-a-tat ! Rat-a-tat !
'Tis the butcher or baker, that's fat.
Rat-a-tat.
I know by his ugly rat-tat.
Rat-a-tat !
With all his good beef the butcher's a thief.
And the baker's both saucy and fat,
Rat-a-tat ! Rat-a-tat ! etc.
Three weary days, my heart is sore.

A livelong week has fled away,
And yet I sing my mournful lay,
Because my love is far away,
And I have had no letter.
I study hard at ancient lore,
And really think it is a bore.
But hark, there's footsteps at the door
By jingo, here's a letter !
Rat-a-tat, Rat-a-tat, etc.
Some one is coming to the door,
'Tis the postman ! I know his rat-tat,
And the gilt band he wears round his hat ;
He's brought me a letter from her I love better
Than Hebrew and Greek and all that.
Fa-la-la, etc.
Now welcome joy, I'll sigh no more.

5. Tree in the Ground. Wesleyan Version.
6. Weimar People's Song. Liszt.

From the Wartburg turrets o'er us
Comes a breath of song resounding.
Hark ! how rings the joyful chorus,
Both from Ilm and Saal rebounding !
Wid'ning hence the clear vibrations.
All the thrilling world enfolds ;
May the God who rules the nations
Weimar's princely house uphold !

Home of matrons famed in story,
Home of heroes danger scorning,
Steadfast in defeat of glory,
All the German laud adorning !
Wisely ruled through generations,
Crowned with blessings manifold !
May the God who rules the nations
Weimar's princely house uphold !

Prince and peasant, firm united,
Find in mutual love new power,
May this love thus truly pledged
Be the Heilig Wartburg's tower !
Hail our flag with exultations,
Ours to-day as ours of old !
May the God who rules the nations
Weimar's princely house uphold !

THIS Society has nominally been in operation for fifty-one years. Governor Swain in 1842 founded it, filled all the offices, and seems to have been the only member. It was not incorporated. He secured during the next twenty-five years many valuable legislative documents, files of old newspapers, books, manuscripts, and letters of men eminent in our history. Some of these are exceedingly valuable and grow more so yearly. He secured, among other things, the manuscripts collected by Judge Archibald DeBow Murphey while he was intending to write the history of the State. This was one of the most valuable collections ever gathered by any of our citizens. Many of Governor Swain's private papers were mixed with the papers of the Historical Society and upon his death, in 1868, it was impossible to decide as to the ownership of many. Mrs. Swain upon her death, left these papers by will to the State, or the university, as her executors should decide. Many of the more valuable autographs, however, had been sold away. The executors were Hon. R. H. Battle and Judge Walter Clark. By their decision the Historical Society received them last year. The collection, though greatly mutilated, is very valuable. It contains many letters and papers of General John Steele, Archibald Mac Laine, Charles W. Harris, Richard Caswell, and many Revolutionary worthies. Among others, the Society owns almost all the existing evidence in regard to the Mecklenburg Declaration, of May 20th, 1775. It has the original journal of Rev. Humphrey Hunter, the Davie copy of the Declaration, letters from John McKnitt Alexander and his son Joseph McKnitt, the letters of General Joseph Graham, and the certificates secured by Colonel Wm. Polk. The original copy of the Resolves of the Cumberland Association, though worn into fragments is carefully preserved. The Society owns one of the finest collections of Colonial and Revolutionary paper money in existence, and has also a very good collection of Indian and Revolutionary relics.

The present charter of the Society was secured March 22, 1875, some of the most prominent men in the State being named as incorporators. The first meeting was held in Raleigh, May 4, 1875, and Rev. Wm. Hooper, D. D. was chosen the first president. He was succeeded in June, 1877, by Judge John Kerr. Dr. Kemp P. Battle was next chosen and has filled that office ever since. Rev. J. F. Heitman was the first secretary, then Dr. Stephen B. Weeks, then Mr. W. J. Andrews served to June, 1891, Mr. Howard A. Banks to June, 1892, and Holland M. Thompson, since.

By the liberality of the University, a small appropriation was made last year for clerical aid. During the past year much progress has been made in arranging material and many valuable books have been added to the library of the Society. Much interest is manifested, especially by the students in the course, in North Carolina history. There is much material in the collection which should be published on account of the light which it would throw upon disputed points in North Carolina history. The Society is unable to do this from lack of funds.

(Bell rings.) Prof. seated at desk, legs crossed, (his, not the desk's) class book and pencil in hand. Students come in blowing and puffing after having climbed three flights of stairs. "Gentlemen I will call, please answer to your names." [Calls the roll, half of class is "gratting"]

"Gentlemen, some members of our class are very conspicuous by their absence." (Peculiar sounds heard from class, which are supposed to resemble laughter.)

"You will please close your books."

(Books are shifted, still open, from top of desks to knees.)

"Mister, Ah um, Mister—let me see—I have forgotten your name—(some one suggests Long.) "Thank you, sir. Mister Long, please translate me from the word 'Das Buch.'"

Long begins, but is interrupted by the words, "Rise if you please, sir."

(As the University is not a freeschool nor a kindergarten, just why Mr. Long must rise to recite is not yet clearly understood. Possibly such is the custom in Germany.)

Long continues slowly to translate, but presently is hung by the word "Thur."

"What does that mean, Mr. Long?"

No answer.

"Any one in the class may tell us right quickly now, if you please."

No one seems inclined to tell us "right quickly now," so the Prof. proceeds: "Thur, means door, gentlemen; let me make it clear. In Germany they have two kinds of doors, that is two varieties, i. e. big doors and little doors; the door in front is a big door, the doors inside are the little doors if a door is not a big door it is a little door, sometimes when I was a student in Germany and came home late at night, (smiles) the door was locked that is the big door. Now get this point right clearly now, and you will never have to get it again.

Class looks very wise after this valuable piece of information.

“Mr. Rothlander, please read me on page 43, right quickly now.” No response. “Ah, I see, Mr. Rothlander is asleep, we will pass on.”

I would like you, gentlemen, to get this point right clearly now once for all, so that you may keep it.

Class looks up expectantly. Prof. proceeds: “Get this right carefully now, if you please, and hold it. Some pens write German better than other pens.”

“Mr. Askinton recite me now please right quickly ‘Die Lorelei’ Mr. Askinton gets the first two lines, having just seen them in the book, after a fashion, and then comes to a dead stop and sits down.

Prof: “Gentlemen let me read you a little poetic version of my own, just dashed off in a moment and of no real merit.” Class listens resignedly. (We will spare the reader.)

“Now Gentlemen, write me for next time seven exercises in German script, learn me nine pages in the grammar, and read me the remainder of ‘Die Arganant, right quickly now, if you please.’” Bell rings. Class looks relieved—slumberers are awakened—Prof. closes his book, and students wearily leave the room.

An Attempt at Rhyming by a Freshman.

We stand undismayed tho' no colors airing,
And care not a snap for Sophomore swearing,
Though when we entered on last September,
We expected them our limbs to dismember,
And on account of blacking and sundry sprees
To air our "freshness" up neighboring trees.

But to ourselves they kindly seemed to take,
And compelled us only a few speeches to make,
And in terms of fitting application
To acknowledge them Lords of all creation,
And worthy to represent the genius of a nation.

The Juniors looked on with an air as of yore,
Sighing for their lost privileges of Sophomore,
Wishing to call backward time in its flight,
And be a Soph again just for to-night.

The Senior with dignity most bland,
Gave us a patronizing shake of the hand,
And bade us behold what a man would be
Who became a mighty Senior at U. N. C.,
That the step from Fresh' to Seniors' union
Was greater than Darwin's wildest dream.

Settled finally, things moved smoothly along
With just a little "game" mingled with a song,
A lot of hard work, an occasional grat;
For a Freshman is a Freshman "for a" that."

And so that time glided swiftly by
And Christmas examinations drew nigh,
And the smiles of the Professors began to get broader
As they placidly thought of the coming slaughter.

But those who "fell" soon rallied from the blow
And in Christmas fun forgot Latin and English woe,
For by Rhetoric and Analysis we are ne'er made wise
Nor by eternal references to "Skeats Concise."

Back we came refreshed but not "freshed" as before
And usurped the rights of the Sophomore
By taking the "temperature" of the newly arriven,
In a way that will not here be given.

With the beacon of the future ever shining bright
We leave past cares and begin the new year aright,
And soon another feather is plucked from time's wing,
And March examinations announce the note of Spring,
In the Spring the Professor's work with livelier zest;
In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of rest.

And now may peace and harmony and good will
The bosom of each one fill;
And when College life is o'er,
And these scenes around are known no more;
When with the tide of life we mix,
May all honor accord to the class of '96.

"From sunset to sunrise, sir ; oh no ! that's wrong. I mean from sun rise to sun set !"

AND

THEN

LAUGHED!

The 'Varsity Seem-phunny.

When I "fresh" to the 'Varsity came,
"Fresh" was hardly the proper name;
As I think of it now, you know,
'Pears like I must have been mighty slow!
When I myself on the campus found,
Suddenly startled I looked around,
From forty throats I heard "Fresh" resound,
I'll never be "Fresh" any more.

CHORUS.

The 'Varsity! The 'Varsity!
They say such things and they do strange things,
At the Varsity, the 'Varsity!
I'll never go there any more.

To the President's office I first did go,
Seventeen papers I signed in a row;
For my tuition, I gave a note,
(Shall pay it by pawning this spiketail coat!)
The Registrar wrote me a neat "little trick,"
I seized it and started for classes right quick,
But the Sophomores cried, "Take a 'grat' you chick;"
"We never go there any more!"—CHO:—

On Friday night came a fellow, said he,
"You must go to Society along with me,
You must join the Di or must join the Phi."
The reason exactly, I couldn't learn why,
From my opera chair as I looked about,
Some one cried "fire" with a fearful shout,
I was fined fourteen dollars, before I got out,
I never go there any more!—CHO:—

I "went on class" 'twas in first Mathematics,
The Professor's the same as of "Graphical Statics,"
A black and white dog lay there, stretched on the floor,
 $x = y = a^2$ I wrote near the door;
Up started that dog, "Sic him" urged on the boys,
"Here Di," cried the Prof., in a very stern voice,
"Not just yet," I shrieked, as I fled from that noise,
I've never been there any more?—CHO:—

I went into the English Room,
And I didn't get out a bit too soon!
We had to recite only once a week,
But it was enough just to hear him speak;
"Buy this and buy that, and whatever you do,
Be sure and get Skeat's Etymology too;
If you don't, I'm sure you will never get through.
I never go there any more!—CHO:—

I tried again, 'twas Philosophy now,
Began reciting the best I knew how,
"How do you know that you know," said the Prof.
"Don't sass me that way!" said I, "Come off!"
The class rather audibly smiled at that,
Somewhat crestfallen, down I sat,
Didn't know anything where I was at,
Don't know nothin' now any more!—CHO:—

New honors I sought on the football field,
In athletics resolved to none would I yield;
In the "Scrub eleven" I took my place,
Thought I'd kick the ball thro' four dimensions of space!
Straightway I met up with the "Centre Rush,"
Just twenty more fellows jumped on to the crush,
They scraped up my pieces with a fine-tooth brush,
I never kick now any more!—CHO:—

At the end of the term I "went on exam."
Sat up all night at a beastly "cram;"
I wrote forty pages all over with stuff,
Then stopped, thinking may be that was enough.
A day or two later, I asked for my grade,
"You are six" said the Prof. "I am sorely afraid—"
Just six more than I knew, I was amply repaid!
I've never got six any more!—CHO:—

Object Lessons for Freshmen.

LESSON I.

See the Man Running !

Is the Man Jule Ingle.

Ah, no ! my child. Jule Ingle Never Runs. He Walks only Because he can't Roll.

Who, then, is the Man and Why does He Run ?

The Man is " Muncher " Toy : he is late and Running to Chapel to Hear " Carlo " Greely Preach.

LESSON II.

What Have we Here, my Child ?

It is A Monkey.

No, No ; it is Prof. Greeley. But why does He look so Happy ?

He is happy because, 1. He has found Out the Amount of His Bill to Mr. Crutchfield. 2. He has Found his Hat, which was on His Head. 3. He Has found his Umbrella.

" Requiescat in Pace."

THE · OLD · BELL.

ADAPTED BY W. A. B.

(AIR: "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp.")

To the busy morning light,
To the slumbers of the night,
To the labors and the lessons of the hour,
With a ringing, rhythmic tone,
Over hill and valley blown,
Call the voices watching, waking in the tower.

CHORUS.

Cling! clang! cling! the bell is ringing,
Hope and help its chimings tell;
Through the halls of N. C. U.,
O'er the quiet village too,
Float the melody and music of the bell.

By our Otey's famed retreat,
Where the loved and lovers meet,
By the laurel bank and glen of dreaming flower;
Where the groves are dark and grand,
Where the oaks majestic stand,
Come the voices, mellow voices of the tower.

Chorus.

When our student-life is o'er,
When its dreams beguile no more,
And when "Forward" is the order of the hour,
Still, believe me, brothers, dear,
In the future we shall hear
Guiding voices from our angel in the tower.

Chorus.

Not afraid to dare and do,
Let us rouse ourselves anew,
With the "knowledge that is victory and power,"
And arrayed in every fight
On the battle side of right,
Gather glory for our angel in the tower.

Chorus.

Examination on Fresh English.

May 1893.

1. Name all the principal streets of Yazoo City, and give an illustration of offensive partisanship.
2. In the sentence "Strike him for pie, Mary Ann," name the kind of pie referred to, and, also, give as near as you can, the advalorem duty on mules under the McKinley law.
3. How do you account for the difference between a horse-chestnut and a chestnut horse, and what is your opinion of the Police Force of New York City?
4. State how, when, where, why, and by whom the poem was written in which these lines occur :

" This road is not passable,
Not even Jackassable," and name the author of " Where am I at ? "

5. Write your parents' names, and your own name in full, giving sufficient reasons for not being named otherwise.

PLEDGE.

Specimen Question on Fresh Mathematical Examination.

If two diametrical circles with octagonal peripheries should collide with a centrifugal idiosyncrasy, or a disenfranchised nonentity, what effect would the catastrophe exert upon a crystalized codfish suspended by its caudal appendage, from the homogeneous rafters of the Empyrean ?

ECHOES FROM THE BANQUET.

AIR, "Maggie Murphy's Home."

Virginians say their team can play,
And they are sure to win ;
But all the same they lose the game,
And part with hard earned tin.
For Murphy'll break their centre,
And Snipes will do the same,
And you can bet on Jimmy Biggs
To play the N. C. game.

The Trinity line they broke so fine,
They think they are out of sight,
But now they've met a team you bet
For N. C., she's all right.
For Devin'll open up the line ;
Mike Hoke go through the hole,
And N. C. wins the game boys,
When Barnard kicks the goal.

AIR, "Ta-ra-ra boom-de-ay."

Murphy he's our centre rush,
Kirk and Snipes you bet can push,
Biggs and Little mighty are fine,
Captain Hoke punts down the line.

CHORUS.

Ta-ra-ra boom-de-ay.
U. Va., they cannot play.
U. N. C. will walk away
With their ball team any day.

Barnard tackles out of sight,
Old man Devin, he's all right ;
Make five yards whenever we send
Little Ben Stanley 'round the end.

CHORUS.

Gibbs and Guion are the stuff,
Pugh and Merritt good enough ;
Charlie, Burt, and Wooten, too,
Will uphold the white and blue.

CHORUS.

Air--“ RUBEN, RUBEN, I’VE BEEN THINKING.”

Winston, Winston, we’ve been thinking,
What great things for us you’ve done
Though you are but yet a youngster,
Fair and fat and 41.

Muncher, Muncher, we’ve been thinking,
Oh, how awful it would be,
If you’d forget your bows and smiling,
We’d forget our ennuï.”

Harrington, Harrington, we’ve been thinking
What a fine club we would be,
If all of us could sing as you do—
From low bass up to high G.

Kemp, P., Kemp, P., we’ve been singing,
’Till we’ve hoarse as hoarse can be,
Can’t you give a joke or something,
To make the time pass pleasantly.

Carlo Marlo, we’ve been thinking,
In air above and earth below,
Where, if you please, did you get those whiskers !
Laissez faire, or make them grow.

Tommy, Tommy, we’ve been thinking,
Oh, indeed, how strange ’twould feel,
If you should once dismiss us promptly
For to take our mid-day meal.

Joshua, Joshua, we’ve been thinking,
How much handsomer you would be,
If you would part your hair in the middle,
Brush on both sides just like me.

H. M. QUACKENBUSH'S SAFETY CARTRIDGE RIFLE.

WHOLE LENGTH, 33 INCHES. WEIGHT, 4½ POUNDS.

THE best accurate Rifle ever offered for the money. Fully guaranteed. Recently improved. With rebounding lock and adjustable trigger pull. Rifled with quick twist. With the long rifle cartridges good work can be done at 300 yards. We guarantee these rifles to shoot as strong and as accurate as any 22.100 calibre rifle made; besides, they are perfectly safe to handle, quick to operate, reliable in every respect, and will bear incessant use without impairing their efficiency in the least degree. The rear sights are adjustable, and the barrel can be instantly removed from the frame, making a handy arm to carry in trunk, valise or package. Each rifle is tested before leaving our works, and it is knocked down as above stated, and neatly packed in a neat, strong box. We also manufacture a FULL ASSORTMENT OF AIR GUNS, SUITED TO MEET THE TASTES AND WANTS OF EVERYONE. The quality of our goods has established them in all the principal markets of the world, and their superiority has induced the United States Navy to place them, with success, on their school ships.

A Tonic

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE

Prepared according to the directions of Prof. E. N. Horsford.

This preparation is recommended by Physicians as a most excellent and agreeable tonic and appetizer. It nourishes and invigorates the tired brain and body, imparts renewed energy and vitality, and enlivens the functions.

Dr. Ephraim Bateman, Cedarville, N. J., says :

“ I have used it for several, not only in my practice. but in my own individual case, and consider it under all circumstances one of the best nerve tonics that we possess. For mental exhaustion or overwork it gives renewed strength and vigor to the entire system.”

Dr. P. W. Thomas, Grand Rapids, Mich., says :

“ One of the best of tonics. It gives vigor, strength and quiet sleep.”

Dr. H. K. Clarke, Geneva, N. Y., says :

“ It has proved of great value for its tonic and revivifying influence.

Dr. R. Williams, LeRoy, N. Y., says :

“ A good general tonic and worthy of trial.”

Dr. J. H. Stedman, West Brattleboro, Vt., says :

“ Best tonic I have ever used ”

“Seeing is Believing.”

And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see “The Rochester” will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin’s of old, it is indeed a “wonderful lamp,” for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light, and more cheerful than either.

Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer hasn’t the GENUINE Rochester, and the style you want send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World.

Pleasurable Exercise.

The gymnasium is now universally recognized as a necessary adjunct to a college education. But there comes a time when the weather is too warm and outdoors too inviting to work inside. Then what is better for all-around exercise than the bicycle? It will take you swiftly along the smooth streets of the city or carry you out into the fresh air of the open country. Back again to your study with clear brain and quiet nerves. But your nerves will not be quiet if your bicycle does not run easily, so get a Columbia, for Columbias run easiest, wear longest, and look the best.

Have you ever thought of taking a bicycle tour during vacation?
We have a finely illustrated book about Columbia bicycles. Send to us for one.

POND'S EXTRACT

If you wish to take Regular Daily Exercise, and not be compelled to desist from work because of Sore Muscles, you must, after exercising, Thoroughly Rub the Muscles with Pond's Extract. By its use you are made Quick and Active, and All Soreness, Stiffness, or Swelling is prevented, and you will Avoid the Danger of Taking Cold on going out after exercising.

We have a book full of testimonials from the most famous athletes; to quote them is superfluous. Almost everyone in training uses it. But don't expect some cheap substitute for Pond's Extract to do what the genuine article will, for you will surely be disappointed. Manufactured only by

J. T. WILSON, A. H. KOONCE.

The UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE is published six times during the college year by the Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies. It is issued at intervals of six weeks, beginning October 1st.

The aim of the MAGAZINE is, first of all, to preserve the best undergraduate work of our University, and to be the expression of the strongest and soberest thought of the University in all its departments. It will contain in each number an article of the more serious sort, by some alumnus of the University or other prominent thinker, besides poems, critical reviews, essays, careful book notices, and editorials on topics of general interest.

Contributions are solicited from both students and alumni, and such as are available will find a place in the MAGAZINE.

The MAGAZINE is for sale in Raleigh, at Alfred Williams & Co.'s; in Wilmington, at C. W. Yate's; in Charlotte, at Putnam's; in Winston, at Whitaker's; and in Ashville at Morgan's. It may be had at Sever's in Cambridge, Mass., and at Brentano's New York. Single copies cost twenty-five cents; the subscription is one dollar per year.
